Saudi Aramco IPO: You Can Soon Own a Piece of Prince MBS's Oil Empire | Observer

Taking Saudi Aramco public is part of Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman's effort to modernize Saudi Arabia's economy. FAYEZ NURELDINE/AFP via Getty Images Saudi Arabia's state-owned oil and gas producer, Saudi Aramco, has been teasing an on-again, off-again plan to file what could be the world's largest IPO ever for over a year now. The plan was most recently revived, after the company announced last week that it would list shares on the domestic Tadawul stock exchange. Over the weekend, ...

Saudi Arabia's Sabic Suspends All But Essential Spending

Saudi Basic Industries Corp. is suspending new capital expenditure after an oil-price slump and coronavirus-related lockdowns pushed the company into a 950 million-riyals loss ($253 million) in the first quarter. Sabic, as the Middle East's biggest chemicals producer is known, warned that the pandemic's impact on chemical demand would stretch into the second quarter and potentially the rest of the year. First-quarter sales dropped 18% to 30.83 billion riyals. "The effect on demand and the reduction in prices will be ...

Russia's Oil Output Rose Slightly in April Ahead of OPEC+ Cuts

(Bloomberg) -- Russia slightly increased its crude oil and condensate production in April ahead of the biggest-ever output cuts under the new OPEC+ deal. The country's producers pumped 46.45 million tons of oil last month, Interfax reported, citing preliminary data for April from the Energy Ministry's CDU-TEK unit. The figure, which may be rounded, equates to about 11.349 million barrels a day on average, based on the standard 7.33 barrels-per-ton conversion ratio. Russia produced 11.298 million barrels a day in ...

The Iranian-Saudi Conflict and Its Cyber Outlet

Among the numerous rivalries and conflicts in the Middle East, the Iranian-Saudi is one of the most unusual and unique. Stretching over several decades, it seems that this rivalry has it all – neighbouring countries with different religions, languages, culture, and history; two nations – Shiite (Iran) and Sunni (Saudi Arabia) – Persians and Arabs – competing against each other for hegemony over the Middle East. Remarkably, this conflict confirms that it does not necessarily take a physical army and ...

The End of the Beginning of the Oil Price War – 24/7 Wall St.

Saudi Arabia and Russia, with a push from the United States, have agreed to reduce oil production by 9.7 million barrels a day beginning in May. The deal presumably averts further erosion in crude oil prices that had dropped below $20 a barrel for U.S. benchmark West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude. The agreed cuts include 3.7 million barrels a day in production cuts from the United States, Canada and Brazil. The cuts will come as low prices force more wells ...

Why Trump Was Tweeting About Texas After Drone Strikes on a Saudi Arabian Oil Facility - The Texas Observer

What do geopolitics in the Middle East have to do with Texas? When it comes to oil prices and production, everything. A September 14 drone strike on two major oil processing plants in the city of Abqaiq, Saudi Arabia, led to fears that global oil prices could go haywire. It could take months for the facilities, operated by Saudi Aramco, to regain full operating capacity, and oil prices are already climbing. That prompted President Donald Trump to

2020 Russia–Saudi Arabia oil price war - Wikipedia

The Russia–Saudi Arabia oil price war of 2020 is an economic war triggered in March 2020 by Saudi Arabia in response to Russia's refusal to reduce oil production in order to keep prices for oil at moderate level, since its consumption fell dramatically due to COVID-19 pandemic. This economic conflict resulted in a sheer drop of oil price over the spring of 2020, with the price becoming negative on April 20 (oil production can not be stopped completely, but even ...

Saudi Arabia

Saudi Arabia has an oil-based economy with strong government controls over major economic activities. It possesses about 16% of the world's proven petroleum reserves, ranks as the largest exporter of petroleum, and plays a leading role in OPEC. The petroleum sector accounts for roughly 87% of budget revenues, 42% of GDP, and 90% of export earnings. Saudi Arabia is encouraging the growth of the private sector in order to diversify its economy and to employ more Saudi nationals. Approximately 6 ...
